

Independent and National day observation by GUB

The German University Bangladesh (GUB) observed the 47th Independent and National day by paying due respect and deep homage to million martyrs of the Liberation War. The day started with raising the national flag on the top of the University buildings. Early in the morning, Dr.-Ing. Saifullah Khandker, the chairman of BOT and acting VC of GUB, along with all the faculty members, employees and the students of GUB, paid glowing tributes to the martyrs placing wreaths at the central Memorial, Gazipur.

Later on, around 10:30 am a discussion session was organised at the auditorium of the university to recollect the significance and history of the liberation war of Bangladesh. Md. Abdul Kalam Azad, the registrar of the German University Bangladesh presided over the program where as Prof. Dr.-Ing. Saifullah Khandker was present as a chief guest of the event. Prof. Dr. Moazzem Hossain Miah & Prof. Dr. SM Iqbal Hossain also attended at the program as the special guests. The speakers of the program showed gratitude and respect to the million martyrs of the Liberation War for sacrificing their lives to give us the recognition as an independent Nation. Some of the speakers became emotional while addressing the speech remembering the beloved one who lost their life during the war.

The event was concluded by praying dua toward the martyrs of the Liberation War and the expectation of the prosperous Bangladesh.
